

FDA Statement On 10 Investigates' Report

Feb 27 2008 5:49PM

"FDA regulates the material used in the construction of crowns, bridges, or other devices commonly fabricated by dental laboratories, and the agency takes these allegations seriously.

We are reviewing this report and developing a strategy to get additional information on this incident and on all imported dental devices.

We will apply resources as needed to move forward with a regulatory strategy consistent with what we find."
